Recalling the Resolution on Economic and Free Trade in the Asia-Pacific Region (APPF26/RES.02) which was adopted at the 26th Annual Meeting of APPF in Hanoi and Resolution on Economic and Trade Cooperation in the Asia-Pacific Region (APPF25/RES.15) adopted at the 25th Annual Meeting of APPF held in Fiji in January 2017;

Recalling Resolution E/RES/2017/22 adopted by the UN Economic and Social Council on 6 July 2017, aiming to achieve inclusive and sustainable economic development through promoting local innovation and bringing together local scientific, vocational and engineering knowledge, mobilizing resources from multiple channels, improving core information and communications technology and supporting smart infrastructure, including through collaboration with and among national programs;

Deeply concerned about the failure to reach a joint declaration of APEC Economic Leaders' Meeting in Port Moresby in November last year;

Upholding the intention of the APEC Economic Leaders to consolidate the rules-based, transparent, non-discriminatory, and multilateral trade system for inclusive growth;

Recognizing the crucial role of strong institutions in enhancing international trade, long-run economic performance, and inclusive growth;

Recalling the previous APPF resolutions on trade and economic matters in the Asia-Pacific region, related to enhancing cooperation among member states to build strong institutions to promote trade and inclusive growth;

Noting that any regional economic integration should be open to all countries in the Asia-Pacific region;

Reaffirming the entry into force of the Trade Facilitation Agreement in February 2017, designed to complement the multilateral trading system of the World Trade Organization (WTO), which encourages parliamentarians of the Member States to play more active role in promoting its implementation;

Recalling the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development, adopted by all United Nations Member States in 2015, especially sustainable development Goal 10: Reduce inequality within and among countries;

Recognizing that benefits of free trade and regional economic integration are not equally distributed and reaffirming the ultimate goal of all member states to promote sustainable and inclusive economic growth for all;

Considering the recent escalation of trade conflicts among big economies and the tendency to move away from the multilateral framework will affect regional growth; and

Reaffirming the crucial role of parliamentarians to adopt effective and sufficient laws and policies in response to issues related to international trade and sustainable development;
